MEXICAN TROOPS QUELL REVOLUTION

Government Forces Have Situation Well in Hand, Although The Situation is Still Serious
Uncle Sam May Be Asked For Aid

City of Mexico, June 29.—At Las Vacas, where the first serious attack was made, the government has gained the upper hand. Troops are now in complete control of the situation in that city, the rebels and bandits who composed the attacking force having been driven back to the mountains.

They will not be permitted to rest there undisturbed, as the government purposes to make an example of its foes as an object lesson to others who might join the movement in other sections. To this end a large force of cavalry has been sent into the hills on the heels of the fugitives, and the chase is now in progress.

It is the view of the Mexican government that Mexican citizens who were concerned in the recent raids are common criminals, and that the contention to the contrary on the ground that their acts were committed in furtherance of a revolutionary movement will not hold.

The internal troubles in Mexico, which developed several days ago along the northern border of the republic, have developed serious features.

Today the storm center is around the city of Torreon and in the country between that place and Jaral, where bandits are operating in conjunction with the insurrectionists. Government troops are rushing to the scene. Already 1,500 federal soldiers have reached Torreon to reinforce the garrison there; 200 more have reached Juarez, and in Chihuahua soldiers are patrolling the streets and the public houses and jails are heavily guarded.

In view of the latest developments, Ambassador Creel, who has been here on what promised to be a long leave of absence, has been instructed to return to Washington without delay.

It is the belief of the Mexican government that the revolutionary movement now in progress was fomented by a band of agitators who have long made their headquarters in the United States. On this ground, it is believed, Ambassador Creel will appeal to the United States authorities to assist in apprehending some of the revolutionists, particularly those who are concerned in the attack at Las Vacas.

The request will be made also that if any of the ringleaders in the movement are captured in the United States they are to be tried in the courts of that country on charges of violating the neutrality laws.

San Antonio, Tex., June 29.—Gen. Jose Villar, commander of the military zone for Northern Mexico, is at the head of a large body of troops marching overland to Las Vacas. His force had a sharp battle with revolutionists yesterday. Many were killed on both sides. The revolutionists retreated and are said to be moving toward Torreon.

Several bands of revolutionists are operating in that section. They have torn up the track of the Mexican International Railroad company and have the wires cut between Torreon and Jaral.

It is reported that a force of several hundred insurgents are in the vicinity of Matamoros, a town of 5,000 people, and that an attack upon the place is to be made.

Banks and business houses of Torreon and all towns of this section keep armed guards on duty day and night to resist any attacks that might be made by revolutionary bands for the purpose of robbery.

Federal troops are passing through here by the trainload. They are on their way to points in the vicinity of Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, where the situation is said to be worse than around Torreon.

Dealers in firearms and ammunition in Del Rio, Eagle Pass and other towns on the Texas side of the Rio Grande border have sold out their entire stocks in the last few days to Mexicans from across the river. They are supposed to belong to the revolutionary army that is creating such widespread alarm along this part of the frontier. At Eagle Pass more than 800 guns were sold in the last two days.

Governor Campbell will order two Las Vacas, stated that in the clash between the two forces fifteen insurgents and nine Mexican soldiers were killed. About sixty were wounded.

The attack on Las Vacas was led by General Longoria, Captain Canales and Capt. Encarnacion Diaz. The main battle was fought around the custom house at Las Vacas and both Captain Canales and Captain Diaz were killed near that building.

The wife of Senor H. Garcia, a Mexican millionaire, well known in San Antonio, was shot in the mouth by a stray bullet that came through a window of her home. She is in a serious condition.

Two hundred Mexican soldiers arrived from Ciudad Diaz this afternoon and are in close pursuit of the insurgent band, who are now fleeing into the mountains northwest of Las Vacas. A few shots have been exchanged.

It is claimed the attack on Las Vacas was precipitated by Mexicans who crossed from Texas. Fifty crossed the river above Del Rio and forty near Blackettsville. They approached Las Vacas from both sides and drove in the outposts of the soldiers. The fighting in the heart of the town lasted more than two hours. After this the revolutionists were forced to retire.

Companies of state rangers to the Rio Grande border to assist the federal authorities in preventing violations of the neutrality laws by Mexican revolutionists. The rangers will patrol the river between Del Rio and Eagle Pass.

Full reports received here from newspaper men who crossed into Mexico to investigate the uprising at

BRYAN IS NOT A CROESUS BUT POSSESSES FORTUNE

Lincoln, Neb., June 27.—According to the hasty estimate made by the county assessor, William J. Bryan stands eighth in the list of Lincoln county's wealthy men. Mr. Bryan's possessions, as that same official has estimated them in the list filed today in the court house, total the modest sum of $84,000. This total is made up of the following items:

One hundred and thirty-five acres of farm land (50 acres, worth $8,000, in the name of Mrs. Bryan), $29,125.
House at Fairview, $21,000.
Improvements, barns, etc., $2,325.
The Commoner, $29,250.
Personal property, $12,800.

The latter item is made up of the following, as returned by their owner: Household goods, $3,500.
Jewelry, $400.

Twenty-one head of cattle, $1,250.
Dogs, $40.
Cash on hand April 1, $2,100.

Piano, $500.
Pictures and engravings, $1,000.
Agricultural tools, $150.

Four horses, $800.
Notes, $1,000.
Firearms, $150.
Diamonds, $300.

Six vehicles, $600.

In Nebraska the law is that everything shall be assessed at its cash value, but as a rule the valuation made represents about three-fourth of the true value. If this rule holds good in the case of Mr. Bryan, his possessions in Nebraska, real and personal, are worth actually slightly in excess of $100,000.

This takes into account only his property in the county. It is understood he has valuable holdings in Texas and elsewhere.

KILLED BY STREET CAR

Trinidad, Colo., (Special) June 27—

Struck by street car No. 5, at the junction of Pine and Nevada streets at 2:45 yesterday afternoon, H. D. Clark, an aged and highly respected resident of this city, sustained injuries that caused his death in less than an hour. He died at the San Raphael hospital, where he was taken immediately after the accident from a concussion of the brain and the shock. The extreme age and feeble condition of Mr. Clark hastened his death, the news of which is a great shock to the members of the family and a large circle of friends. His aged wife is in a serious condition because of the shock received by the news of the fatal accident.

Mr. Clark had just started to cross Pine street as the car came down the hill. Motorman Ed. Risley thought he wanted to board the car and slowed down. When it came within a few feet of the crossing Mr. Clark, who was very deaf, started to cross the tracks. Before Mr. Risley had time to bring the car to a complete stop, Mr. Clark was struck upon the head and fell under the wheels. The car traveled perhaps five feet after the brakes were applied and the current reversed. Mr. Clark was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried to the Castle Hall drug store, where Dr. White, who happened to be near at hand, did everything possible for the injured man. All efforts to revive him were futile. The ambulance was called at once and he was taken to the hospital, where death ensued in a few minutes. The blow upon the head was the cause of his death.

The car was in charge of Conductor Ed. Payne and Motorman Ed. Risley was on the front end. A number of persons witnessed the accident.

Mr. Clark was 76 years of age and a pioneer resident of Trinidad. He resided with his wife at the head of Pine street and for a number of years had led a retired life. He is survived by his aged wife and five children, two daughters and three sons. They are: Mrs. John H. Humphreys of this city, Mrs. Joseph Boehman of Bloomington, Ill.; W. T. Clark, Spokane, Wash., and Henry and Sherman of Southern Washington.

Wm. Humphreys and Mrs. Wycoff of this city are grandchildren. Out-of-town relatives have been notified of the sad accident and funeral arrangements will not be made until they are heard from.

TWO BOYS MAKE GREWSOME FIND

Carbondale, June 27.—The two small sons of Wm. Dotz this afternoon found a portion of a human arm and a shoulder blade on the bank of the Crystal river near their home. The remains are supposed to be that of an insane man of Red Cliff, who disappeared mysteriously from his cabin last winter. The coroner is investigating.

WOMAN OF 1,500 LOSES LIMB

St. Louis, Mo., June 27.—A woman 1,500 years old is so much of a curiosity that the police of the Deer street station have been appealed to for her protection. The woman has been occupying a corner in a coal shed in the rear of the residence of her guardian, Elbert Bollyn, at 4467 Evans avenue. He complains that some one has stolen one of her legs. Therefore Bollyn has removed the ossified woman, a relic of the fossil forests of southern Wyoming to his basement.

The petrified woman has been in Bollyn's care for several years and has been exhibited at amusement parks. He was preparing for a summer tour when the theft of the leg interrupted his plans.

The police are searching for the woman's missing pedal extremity.

PITCHER DIED PENILESS

Newark, N. J., June 27.—Relatives of Virgil Garvin, the one-time famous pitcher, learned yesterday of that player's death, which occurred on Monday at the home of his parents in Texas. Tuberculosis, the culmination of several years of dissipation, was the cause of his demise.

Garvin's last big league performance was with Brooklyn and the New York Americans in 1904. With the former team he got into trouble in St. Louis and was released. Clark Griffith also gave him a trial, but his erratic habits resulted disastrously for Garvin, and he was let out. During the last three seasons Garvin played ball on the Pacific coast.

During his career he played with the Chicago Nationals and Americans Newark and Milwaukee.

His wife, who remained loyal to him during his checkered career is left penniless, and a subscription fund is being arranged for her benefit.

OLD MAN TAKES A CHILD FOR WIFE

Reading, Pa., June 29.—Having married, while young, Agnes Faust by whom he had ten children, all still alive Jacob Klink, was divorced and, upon reaching the age of 57 created a sensation in Wilmington where he lived, by marrying Daisy Belles, a school girl of 15. Daisy divorced him five years ago for cruel conduct, and today, at 62, he again set Wilmington by the ears by marrying Emma Lutz, 14 years old, daughter of Charles C. Lutz, with the consent of her parents. Klink's family, greatly incensed, strenuously tried to avert the marriage. The bride is pretty. She locked herself in an upstairs room when a World correspondent called at the house today. Klink, a civil war veteran, said: "Emma is my wife and I am proud of it. The neighbors and even my own family have been trying to separate us, but their efforts, instead of destroying my affection, only increased my desire to make her my wife.

"I met Emma a year ago last summer. At the first meeting I was struck by her gentle ways and loving disposition and immediately I became interested in her. I think the world and all of Emma and her whole heart and soul are wrapped up in me. She loved me and I loved her, so we determined to get married. No, I do not think it queer that a man of my age should marry a girl like Emma. As long as we love one another, the age question does not count."

When Klink was asked whether he thought this match would terminate like his marriage with the Belles girl, he replied:

"Oh, no; Emma is altogether different. She understands me and I understand her. My trouble with Daisy was due to her parents."

TRAIN IS DERAILED

Hazleton, Pa., June 27.—One man was killed and eight or ten passengers were injured at Lofty, on the mountains twelve miles from here early today by the wrecking of a Pennsylvania passenger train, which is believed to have been deliberately derailed by the spiking of the tracks. The dead man was the engineer—Aaron Raub—of Pottsville. The injured passengers were brought to the state hospital here.

The Pennsylvania uses the Lehigh Valley railroad tracks between Delano Junction and this city. The superintendent of the Lehigh Valley says his men found two spikes on the tracks placed in such a way as to leave no doubt that they had been put there to deliberately wreck the train.

The Pennsylvania train was composed of a combination car and one day coach and left Pottsville for Mescooke at 5:35 a. m. The train is used principally by workmen, most of whom are miners.

The tracks where the accident occurred extend along the side of the mountain. When the cars left the tracks they toppled over on the mountain side of the roadway. Had they fallen on the opposite side they would have gone down a steep embankment more than fifty feet.

TROOPS INSULTE BY SHAH

Berlin, June 27.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Teheran says the shah surrounded the British legation with Cossacks in order to force the surrender of a member of a Persian parliament from Tabriz, whom the shah was very desirous of seizing and who took refuge in the legation. The Cossacks, by order of the shah, stopped everyone who left the premises. The legation protested against this proceeding as an unheard-of insult, and demanded that the Cossacks be withdrawn by 6 o'clock in the evening.

Teheran, June 27.—The situation here is steadily improving. The bazars are reopening. Troops are camped upon the streets and the population is orderly and quiet.

Several foreigners were wounded during the disorders and the shah has promised the British and Russian diplomatic representatives that they will be reimbursed for all damages.

The latest news from Tabriz indicates that a removal of the fighting there is imminent. The revolutionists are short of ammunition and the supporters of the shah are pressing their advantage.

SEIZE TOWN; FIFTY SLAIN

El Paso, Tex., June 27.—In an encounter between revolutionists and troops of the Mexican government at the town of Los Vacas, in Coahuila, Mexico, near the border across from Del Rio, Texas, early this morning, between forty and fifty were killed and the commandant of the Mexican troops was badly injured, according to advices received here tonight. Upward of 5,000 shots were exchanged.

The story of the battle, according to these advices from Del Rio, is as follows:

The quarters of the Mexican officers and barracks were fired by the attacking band, and the assault centered upon the federal custom house, where forty troops were finally assembled.

In the disorder following the initial attack upon the barracks and the discovery that the quarters of the soldiers were burning, the revolutionists captured sixty horses belonging to the Mexican cavalry.

At the custom house the troops made a determined stand and the fighting lasted all morning without an intermission.

The revolutionists cut all telephone and telegraph wires leading to Los Vacas and this prevented the besieged town from sending for reinforcements.
